The Four Core Needs

- ◆ Affection
- ◆ Boundaries
- ◆ Consistency
- ◆ Discipline

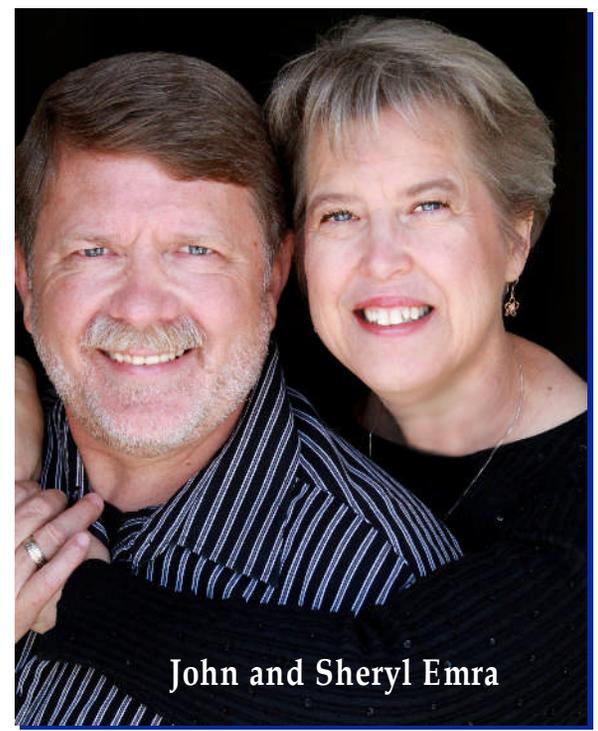

The Three Cornerstones

*L*ife is full of choices, and the choices I make today will determine the qualities of my life both now and in the future.

*L*ife is full of choices, and the choices I make today can affect the circumstances of my life and other people's lives both now and in the future.

*L*ife is full of choices, and even though I have not chosen all the circumstances of my life, I alone determine its qualities, because life is full of choices, and the choices I make today will determine the qualities of my life both now and in the future.

"For God chose to love the world so much that He chose to give His one and only Son, so that everyone who chooses to believe in Him will not perish, but will be choosing to have eternal life."

John 3:16
 (paraphrased)

Our Story

We have always wanted to make an impact on the lives of inner city kids. We started working with "at risk kids" while we were dating.

After college, and after working in the business world for a few years, we were called to be missionaries. We spent three years in Central America before being transferred to East Los Angeles.

Sheryl and I designed and developed an after school program centered on empowering "at risk kids" in East Los Angeles. Keeping kids in school, off the street and out of the gangs was our goal. We used tutoring, recreation, Bible Club, mentoring and outings as tools to train the kids to identify the choices they were making.

For many years we had more than 1,000 different kids in the Center, but our heart was always to have an impact on a core group of kids like the one pictured here.

God has given us a heart for the people of East Los Angeles. This Hispanic neighborhood is now where we choose to live.

Working with inner city kids for over thirty years has given us a unique understanding of what these kids face at home, in school and on the streets.

For many years we have chosen to use our knowledge to minister to inner city kids and their families. Now, by writing the Life Is Full Of Choices books, we get to share some of the wisdom we have accumulated over the years with parents and adults, who like us, work with kids.

We are currently empowering twenty-one churches in the Los Angeles area as well as Churches in other states and Mission groups around the world. We are working with them to design and develop specific after school programs to reach the "at risk kids" in their communities.

Our Need

Like the staff of many mission groups, we depend upon the financial support of concerned individuals and churches to fund our living expenses as well as the costs of our ministries.

Your financial partnership will make a difference in reaching young people and their families for Jesus Christ.

I/We have prayerfully considered your ministry and want to partner with you.
